Earlier this year we had two ZOOM cooking presentations for lodge members. Theresa Mingarell prepared pasta dough and Brandy Ingargiola made biscotti. These presentations were well received and enjoyed by the viewers. We would like to continue to display our culinary skills with additional demonstrations on ZOOM.

What made the cooking episodes fun were the comments and interactions of the participants. It was interesting and informative to hear of the different recipes, ingredients and techniques of regional Italian cooking, plus learning more about the “tools of the trade.” There are numerous Italian dishes out there, making the possibilities quite broad. So, all we need are some volunteers to prepare dishes and recommendations from our members for dishes you would like to see made. Respond to Bernie Costanza at bacostanza@comcast.net with the dish you'd like to prepare on Zoom

Presentations would be made from the volunteer's kitchen and broadcast over ZOOM to our members, and hopefully their invited guests. Technical assistance for the ZOOM sessions would be provided by lodge members.

First session is set for Wednesday, July 7 at 7 PM on ZOOM
